

FARMINGTON RIVER COORDINATING COMMITTEE

BY-LAWS

Adopted 2/8/96
Amended 7/12/01
Amended 3/27/03
Amended 1/22/04
Amended 10/28/04

ARTICLE I. NAME

The official designation of the committee is the Farmington River Coordinating Committee (hereinafter referred to as the "Committee"), in accordance with Public Law 103-313, August 26, 1994.

ARTICLE II. PURPOSE

The purpose of the Farmington River Coordinating Committee is to promote the long-term protection of the upper Farmington River by: (1) bringing the interested parties in river management together on a regular and ongoing basis, (2) stimulating cooperation and coordination among those parties, (3) providing a forum for all river interests to discuss and resolve issues, and 4) coordinating implementation of the upper Farmington River Management Plan, April 29, 1993.

This type of representative body is indispensable for long term management because of the complexities and significance of the upper Farmington River system. Given the number of jurisdictions and interests involved in the upper Farmington River Valley, no one entity can assume sole management responsibility or provide the necessary protection by itself.

Furthermore, management decisions by anyone entity are likely to impact a number of other interests. The forum provided by the Committee will ensure communication among all parties and the representation of all viewpoints in making and implementing management decisions.

ARTICLE III. FUNCTION

As required by Public Law 103-313, the Committee will have an advisory role only. It will not have regulatory or land acquisition authority. The Committee may provide advice to existing entities that have management or regulatory authority affecting the river, but it will not have the power to dictate the actions or decisions of any of those entities.

The Committee will not have additional authority for the following reasons: (1) a major emphasis throughout the wild and scenic study process has been to work within existing authorities to achieve effective protection of the river, (2) there is no need to create an additional layer of regulatory bureaucracy, and (3) there is no need for land acquisition authority beyond what already exists at the local and state levels.
